

'NEVER DRINK CHAMPAGNE,' THAW ADVISED EVELYN

Also Wrote Her From Tombs to Buy Herself Some Woollen Stockings.

HE WANTED A "TISS."

Harry Talks About Case Out of Court and Expects Liberty.

(Special to The Evening World.) WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 5.—At the Thaw hearing before Justice Keogh this afternoon Dr. Charles MacDonald, the State's last alienist, resumed his testimony, in which he has already pronounced Thaw still insane.

Mr. Jerome read to the witness a number of letters which had been written by Thaw in the Tombs. One of these the prisoner addressed Evelyn to buy woollen stockings, all wool, for her "leggies." Another one read as follows: "Dearest—First get well and never drink champagne. It's bad for a lone body and hurts her liver and brain, etc."

"I want to come close and kiss. Be good to her and mouth and legs. Write all her can and if you have some send pictures, too."

Mr. Shearn asked if that letter were evidence of paranoia and Dr. MacDonald said that, considered alone, it was not.

Mr. Shearn stated this afternoon that he would ask Judge Keogh to allow an oral summing up of the case, as he thought this manner would be more satisfactory to both sides. He stated that likely the case will be concluded, so far as testimony is concerned, by Wednesday or Thursday of next week. That he will then ask for an adjournment of a day or two to prepare for the summing up.

Thaw talked this afternoon to Deputy Sheriff Sweet and others interested in the trial. He was asked if he was spending his time awaiting counsel as he did at former trials.

"Oh, no," was the reply, with a faint smile. "I guess my counsel is able to take care of himself."

The opinion was offered that Dr. MacDonald's opinion, which declared Thaw insane the other day, had shown more mental ability on the stand than Dr. Charles MacDonald.

THAW SAYS EXPERT TRIES TO BE LOGICAL.

"Gee on," said Thaw. "This man is ten times as smart as Flint. He is just trying to be logical. Flint didn't care what he said. This man is trying to be logical. But you notice how he tries to cut right across facts to show what he wants to and make the facts fit his preconceptions."

Shearn's use of hypothetical questions was discussed, and Thaw said that the cumulative effect of them would be to devastate all illusions as to his insanity.

"You see, these are only two or three words long," he said. "And his very damaging to MacDonald that he has said thirty times he doesn't want to express an opinion. Nevertheless, I am told he is much different in character from Flint."

At the morning session Dr. MacDonald said Thaw's attempt to correct statements in the newspapers during his homicide trial was an indication of delusions.

"The first statement I gave out was Aug. 4, 1906, after the June shooting. If I had been along there would have been lots of them every day. Perfect broadsides, three or four a day as many as reporters would take."

Consulting some notations which he has kept at this hearing, Thaw said: "Just take that letter to my then counsel (Mr. Delmas). It asks him to take her (Evelyn) driving during the next three days as she would likely be worried and anxious. Now if a bug wrote that letter it would be full of the case, and there isn't a word about it."

Before Thaw returned to the courtroom he criticized Jerome for taking his stand, fan in hand, alongside Dr. MacDonald and frequently prompting him.

"I didn't have any one to fan me as Jerome fans MacDonald."

Thaw expressed himself as absolutely satisfied with the manner in which his third fight for release from Matteawan is being conducted by his attorney, and indicated that he expects soon to be at liberty. This is the first expression coming from Thaw regarding his attitude on the present proceedings.

In endeavoring to bring out that expert testimony of alienists is not always correct, Mr. Shearn read certain testimony given by Dr. MacDonald in the trial of Richard Preusser. The doctor testified that Preusser, on trial for murder, was incurably insane and had him committed to Matteawan. In six weeks, however, Preusser was released from the institution, and since, according to Mr. Shearn, had made a great success of various business enterprises.

TELLS OF THAW'S VISIT TO COMSTOCK.

The cross-examination of Dr. MacDonald was resumed to-day by Clarence J. Shearn, attorney for Thaw. Mr. Shearn took the alienist over the testimony of Anthony Comstock, to whom Thaw communicated the information that a number of wealthy men had a scheme involving mistreatment of young girls. Dr. MacDonald read where Thaw had gone to Comstock after first visiting Miss Helen Gould, whom he asked where he could find a man big enough to undertake the task of bringing what he called these wealthy malefactors to justice. The expert declared that this was delusional. Mr. Shearn asked if Comstock had told Thaw of having heard of similar schemes would the expert still consider Thaw delusional. "I think so," responded the physician. "Thaw built up this imaginary scheme largely upon the story told him by his wife. Thaw took Evelyn Nesbit under Europe under an assumed name and was engaged in practically the same misconduct he was trying to stop."

"But how about the other girls on whom Stanford White tried to force attentions, Edna Goodrich and Carrie Bowman?"

"There is no good evidence," broke in Mr. Jerome.

"Now, Mr. Jerome I object to this conduct on your part," snapped back Mr. Shearn.

"If there is anything to object to there is a proper way to do it."

CONSIDERED THAW CRUSADE AS DELUSIONAL.

"There was evidence to this effect. Both Mr. Thaw and his wife testified to Edna Goodrich having told them that White had endeavored to treat her as he had Evelyn, but that she had thwarted him. He had also tried to seduce Carrie Bowman. In that case do you consider Thaw as suffering under a delusion?"

"I would think so in consequence of his own practices."

"Well, now, are you assuming that Thaw is a perverser?"

"Get that out of your mind for a moment, doctor."

"Well, if a serious man would take up work like that I would not call him delusional."

The alienist said that Thaw showed further delusion when he declared that the Society for the Suppression of Vice had been tampered with by wealthy men when they refused to keep open all night to aid him in his mission of saving young girls.

Dr. MacDonald said that he regarded as a delusion Thaw's statement that Stanford White and his associates had a scheme for the ensnaring of young girls, especially those without a father or big brothers. He said that it was incredible to think that any number of men would band together for such an unholy purpose. Taken by itself, he said, this letter was not sufficient to warrant the assertion that Thaw was insane. The letter might have been written by a drunken man, he explained.

Mr. Shearn asked the witness if he thought there was anything delusional in Thaw's expressing a wish to have published a statement in the newspapers.

The witness thought there was, taking it in connection with the rest of the case.

"In what respect," asked the attorney.

"It shows that he believed he was a victim of a conspiracy."

Mrs. Thaw laughed out loud at this and her son joined with her behind his father.

TWO OVERCOME BY HEAT; MORE VICTIMS EXPECTED.

Man and Woman Collapse on Street and Are Removed to Hospitals.

Two heat prostrations were reported to the police during the early hours of today, the indications being many more would be reported if the heat and humidity persisted throughout the afternoon.

Frank Winner, thirty-three years old, of No. 328 East Seventy-ninth street, a cook, was overcome at Second avenue and Eighty-second street. He was removed to the Reception Hospital.

Jessie M. Lowe, twenty-five years old, of No. 412 Willets avenue, a telephone operator, was overcome in front of No. 612 Lenox avenue and was removed to the Harlem Hospital.

Break in Chicago Wheat.

CHICAGO, July 5.—It was a bear carnival today in the wheat and corn markets. Prices broke 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 for wheat and 2 1/2 to 3 for corn, falling demagogued at the lowest figures of the season. Greatly improved crop prospects both in the United States and in Europe turned speculators to the selling side, and caused quotations to collapse.

TAFT TO LINE UP MEN OF TREASURY IN MACVEAGH ROW

President Will Delve Into Andrews Affair and Find Out How All Stand.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The proposed Congressional investigation of the row in the Treasury Department between Secretary MacVeagh and former Assistant-Secretary A. Platt Andrews may not be held unless Mr. Andrews makes some specific charge against Mr. MacVeagh. Representative Cox of Indiana, Chairman of the House Committee to which the investigation resolution by Representative Cox of Ohio was referred, said to-day that his committee regarded the controversy so far as a family row. Mr. Cox of Ohio declared, nevertheless, he would press his resolution.

Even if Congress does not authorize an investigation, the President, it is said, will personally conduct one. According to information at the Treasury Department to-day, the Executive will begin his probe of the affair by calling in various bureau chiefs at next Tuesday's Cabinet meeting. In the meanwhile, and pending final decision whether Andrews' charges against MacVeagh are to be sustained or rejected, the President proposes that every employee in the Treasury personally pledge loyalty to MacVeagh or retire.

Because of the sharp question of veracity raised by ex-Assistant Secretary Andrews' criticism of his chief, and MacVeagh's hot reply, the President plans personally to sit in judgment on the case. It was said here to-day that Taft will interview the department officials direct and not leave the matter to any subordinate.

Treasury officials to-day maintained an exceedingly discreet silence regarding the affair.

It was reported to-day that some of the officials which Mr. Andrews, in his letter to the president mentioned as being dissatisfied with Mr. MacVeagh's administration, had threatened to resign, or had offered to resign with Mr. Andrews.

Director Ralph of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, when asked if he had offered to resign some time ago said: "There is just sufficient truth in that to warrant Mr. Andrews' making the statement. I regret he saw fit to mention my name."

Royal E. Cabell, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, declined flatly to discuss the matter.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS AND ARMS

A FAMOUS BEAUTY GIVES HER SECRET TO THE WORLD

A Free Prescription You Can Prepare At Your Own Home

Many women take perfect care of their face and yet neglect their hands. Hands, red, cracked, and unattractive as they are, are almost as important as the face in making a woman beautiful. The following prescription, which you can compound at your own home, is famous for the marvellous instantaneous results it gives. For each ounce of Royal Compound, put it in a two-ounce bottle, add one-half ounce of warm water, full with water, and shake well. Apply to your hands, arms or neck. Rub gently, and your hands, arms or neck will be as soft and white as snow. This is the secret of a famous Parisian beauty. Add.
